BUCKS MANAGEMENT AND STAFF

William Alverson
President

A graduate of Princeton University and the University of Wisconsin Law School, Bill Alverson assumed the presidency of Milwaukee Professional Sports and Services in March, 1972. He has served as a legal advisor to the Bucks since their inception over four years ago. He is a member of the Godfrey and Kahn law firm. As president, Alverson is the chief executive in charge of corporate and league affairs.

Wayne Embry
Vice President - General Manager

After playing eleven years in the NBA (eight at Cincinnati, two in Boston, and his final year in Milwaukee), Wayne Embry could not be better equipped for his position as Bucks general manager. He knows the game and the people. And most important, he has the respect of everyone. Embry was named to the position last March, after serving as assistant to the president-director of player personnel for the past two seasons. Prior to rejoining the Bucks after retiring as a player, he served one year as Director of Recreation for the City of Boston.

He is a native of Springfield, Ohio, and a graduate of Miami of Ohio where he starred in basketball. A five-time NBA All-Star, he was later traded to Boston and was on the 1968 World Championship squad there. In his only season with the Bucks, Embry averaged 13.1 points and 8.6 rebounds per game. His hustle and spirit served as inspiration to the members of that young expansion team.

From the court to Boston city government to the Bucks' front office, Wayne Embry brings matchless administrative skills and basketball knowledge. The tireless executive, who often travels to road games, scouts remote college games, and engages in numerous public speaking stints, finds home to be his favorite place. Embry, his attractive wife, Theresa, and their three children, Deborah, 12, Jill, 10, and Wayne Jr., 8 (a husky future NBA center), reside in a Milwaukee suburb.

Larry Costello
Head Coach

Larry Costello's four Bucks teams have won 212 and lost only 116 games. A NBA coaching record like that speaks for itself. Larry is effective, thorough, and dedicated. A student of the game as well as coach, he attributes his success to hard work, and his opportunity to work with talented, cooperative ballplayers. A full feature on Larry Costello appears on page 8.

Hubie Brown
Assistant Coach

Hubie Brown comes to the Bucks well-aware of the coaching style and methods his partner, Larry Costello, employs. The two were teammates for three years at Niagara University. Hubie has a wide background of basketball playing and coaching experience working for him. He spent four years in the professional Eastern League as a player and also played AAU ball while in the Army. He coached basketball, baseball and football on the high school and college levels before joining Duke University as first assistant coach in 1968. As chief recruiter and defensive coach, he helped Duke reach the NIT in 1970 and 1971. Hubie holds a bachelor's degree in economics and a masters degree in education from Niagara. He and wife Claire, also a Niagara grad, are parents of four children, Mary 10, Virginia 9, Julie 6, and Brendan 1.

Bill Bates R.P.T.
Trainer

Bill was formerly head trainer of the NFL's New England Patriots before joining the Bucks last July. A native of Philadelphia, he was head trainer of the Philadelphis 76ers from 1962-65, and an assistant with the old Philadelphia Warriors basketball team from 1958-61. A registered, licensed physical therapist, Bill received his B.S. degree from the University of Pennsylvania in 1960. He also maintained a private practice from 1967-72. Among the athletes he has served during his experience-filled career are Wilt Chamberlain, Elgin Baylor, Jerry West, Joe Namath, and Jim Plunkett. A staunch physical fitness advocate, he often has written and lectured on that subject. "Batesy" is married to the former Donna LaCouture of Brockton, Mass.

Ron Blomberg
Administrative
Assistant

Ron is the coordinator of the Bucks popular summer basketball camp program. Last summer over 3500 young athletes aged 9-17 participated in 40 Bucks camps held in ten Midwest states. A pioneer of summer basketball camps in Wisconsin, Ron coached on the high school level for 24 years. Ron also porticipates in scouting activities ond will provide the color commentary for the Bucks radio and TV broadcasts this season. Ron and wife LaVerne, are the parents of two sons and two daughters, and reside in Brookfield. The Blombergs' older son, Steve, plays baseball in the Kansas City Royals system.

Larry Reed
Administrative
Assistant

A native of Milwaukee, Larry Reed was a star basketball player at Lincoln High School and the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee. He was assistant head coach at UWM from 1967-70. He joined the Bucks staff in 1970 as head coach of the Bucks' farm club. Larry's duties now involve the development of player personnel. As chief scout, Larry is also director of the club's scouting activities. Larry and wife Barbara are the parents of four children. Between his many scouting trips during the season, Larry finds time for work in a number of community service programs.

John Steinmiller
Director
of Publicity

John has been with the Bucks for two years. Prior to his appointment as publicity director in May, 1972, he was involved in several areas of the club's operations. He graduated from Marquette University's College of Journalism in 1970, and also served as student body president there. Originally from Mt. Prospect, Illinois, he is a graduate of St. Viator High School in Arlington Heights, Illinois. At 23, he is the youngest publicity director in professional basketball. John's responsibilities include publicity, media relations, promotion, the press guide and program, and statistics, as well as other public relations duties.

Bea Westfahl
Ticket Manager

Mrs. Westfahl was named Ticket Manager last May after working in the Bucks organization for three years. Before joining the Bucks in 1969, she was employed by the State of Wisconsin at State Fair Park. From West Allis, Mrs. Westfahl presently lives in Milwaukee. She and her husband, Don, a Milwaukee fireman, are the parents of three sons, Jeff 20, Steve 18 and Rick 16. Mrs. Westfahl is responsible for the entire ticket operation including processing and distributing season tickets, over the counter and mail sales, and group orders.

Ted Herpel
Business Manager

Originally from Prarie du Chien, Wisconsin, Ted has been with the Bucks since their beginning. He is involved in several areas of operation including the basketball camp program and team travel arrangements. A graduate of Madison West High School, he received his BA degree in business from the University of Wisconsin. He and wife Sharry are the parents of three children, Kuy 9, Tom 8, and Holly 5.

Chuck Reupert
Controller

Chuck joined the Bucks in February of 1971 after being plant accountant for a local manufacturer for ten years. A graduate of the University of Wisconsin and Boys Tech High, he served as a 3rd officer in the U.S. Maritime Service during World War II and was an infantry squad leader in Korea. An experienced sports car enthusiast, Chuck and wife Sharon are the parents of 17 year old twin sons and reside in Germantown.

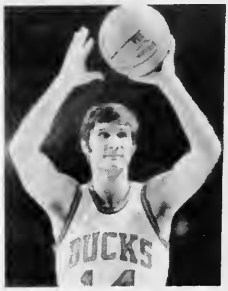
BUCKS INFORMAL HISTORY 1968-1972



Guard Jon McGlocklin leading scorer in '68-69 season

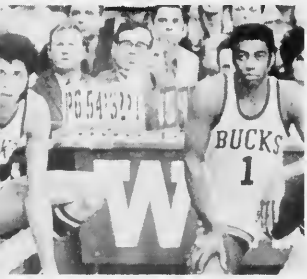
On October 16, 1968, before a crowd of 8,467 at the Milwaukee Arena, the Milwaukee Bucks made their National Basketball Association debut. The Chicago Bulls, however, won 89-84. The Bucks first win came in their sixth game, a 134-118 victory over Detroit on October 31, 1968. The Bucks went on to win 27 games and lose 55 in their first season, but set a home attendance record for a first year team, averaging 6,246 fans at the Arena. Guard Jon McGlocklin led the team in scoring with a 19.6 average; forward Greg Smith was the leading rebounder, and guard Guy Rodgers was the playmaker.

The Bucks last place finish in the East division and the last place finish in the West by the other expansion team, the Phoenix Suns, qualified the two teams for a coin flip to determine rights to the number one choice in the college draft. On March 19, 1969, NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy flipped the coin. Phoenix chose heads, the coin came up tails, and on April 2, 1969, the Bucks signed 7-2 Kareem Abdul-Jabbar of UCLA.

Abdul-Jabbar became an instant superstar, teaming with McGlocklin, Smith, rookie Bob Dandridge and Flynn Robinson in leading the Bucks up from the cellar spot to a runner-up place in the East. Abdul-Jabbar's 28.8 scoring average was second in the league and he led the Bucks in rebounding while Robinson was tops in assists. The Bucks won 56 and lost 26 that year and then defeated the Philadelphia 76ers in five games. 360,650 fans watched the Bucks at the Milwaukee Arena, an average of 9,490 per game.

Following the season, the Bucks made their biggest trade — getting All-Pro Guard Oscar Robertson from Cincinnati for Flynn Robinson and Charlie Paulk. Just prior to the start of the 1970-71 season, Bob Boozer and Lucius Allen were acquired from Seattle for Don Smith.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Oscar Robertson teamed for a World Championship in '71



With Kareem, Robertson, McGlocklin, Dandridge and Smith forming the starting five and Boozer, Allen and Dick Cunningham providing backup, the Bucks ran away with the Midwest Division in the newly aligned four division league setup. The Bucks won 66 and lost only 16 games, in the process setting six league records: home wins, 34; road wins, 28; win streak, 20; field goal percentage, .509; field goals, 3972; and assists, 2249.

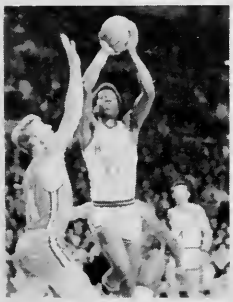
Kareem led the league in scoring with a 31.7 average, and was named the league's Most Valuable Player. He led the Bucks in rebounding while Oscar Robertson led the team in assists.

In playoff competition the Bucks dispatched San Francisco and Los Angeles in five game series and then blasted Baltimore four straight for the World's Championship, only the second time in league history that the title series ended so quickly.

In winning the World's Championship, the Bucks had come further, faster, than any expansion team in the history of major professional sports!

A championship at last for Oscar Robertson.

Not standing content with the title laurels, the Bucks began the 1971-72 season with a flurry of activity in the trading mart. Toby Kimball was purchased from the Houston Rockets and John Block came from that club in exchange for Dick Cunningham. A third Bucks-Rockets trade was made on December 9, when the Bucks sent Greg Smith and a third round draft pick to Houston in exchange for Curtis Perry and the Rockets' first choice in the college draft. The Bucks solidified their roster at 11 men with the addition of veteran guard Wali Jones from Philadelphia on December 14 in exchange for future considerations. The Bucks later sent John Block to Philadelphia to complete the transaction. For the third straight year the Bucks made the playoffs, winning the Midwest division for the second year in a row. The Bucks elevated Wayne Embry to the general manager post and named William Alverson, a legal advisor to the club since its beginning, president in March of 1972.



Bob Dondridge

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar earned the league's Valuable Player honors for the second straight year, averaging 34.8 points per game and leading the NBA in that department.

The Bucks found defense of their World Championship title difficult. A crucial injury to All-Star guard Oscar Robertson had slowed the play maker during the latter portion of the season and during the playoffs. The Bucks disposed of Golden State in five games, as fans saw a classic clash between centers Abdul-Jabbar and Nate Thurmond. The "super series" for the Western Conference championship matched the Bucks against the Los Angeles Lakers, a contingent that had run a 33 game winning streak during the season before being derailed by the Bucks on January 9. Once again, fans witnessed a battle of centers as Wilt Chamberlain and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar met under the basket. The Bucks battled the Lakers in six exciting games before falling four games to two.

In August of 1972, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar brightened the Milwaukee pro basketball picture by signing a new four year contract with an additional year at the club's option.

LARRY COSTELLO — HEAD COACH

What makes a successful professional basketball coach? There are many recipes no doubt, but Larry Costello's formula is unique. It can be summarized in four requisites:

1) Know the game
2) Play the game hard, and play with the best players around
3) Coach the game hard, and coach the best players available
4) Never stop learning more about the game

Costello has played on a NBA World Championship team (Philadelphia, 1967), and has coached a championship squad (Milwaukee, 1971). He has played with Hal Greer and Wilt Chamberlain, two well-known NBA standouts. He is now coaching Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Oscar Robertson, two players who would make anyone's all-time All-Star squad. Costello has seemingly "done it all", but there is one thing he can never do enough of to suit himself — win basketball games. Each season he seeks another World's Championship, and more victories to add to his already remarkable record.

Larry Costello will begin his fifth season as coach of the Milwaukee Bucks this year, and by NBA standards, he is the most successful of any active coach. His four Bucks clubs have won a total of 212 games and lost 116 for a high .646 percentage. A winning percentage that high in the ultra-competitive NBA reflects hard work, a knowledge of the game, and total dedication to coaching. There is no better way to describe Costello than to say he is a coach's coach.

He brings to his coaching position the same hard working attitude and competitive desire which made him a star in 12 seasons as an NBA player. After an outstanding college career at Niagara, he was drafted by the Philadelphia Warriors in 1954.

A six time NBA All-Star, his .841 lifetime free throw percentage ranks him among the top five in league history. He twice led the league's free throwers and missed the playoffs in only two of the dozen years he played. His career scoring average was 12.2 points per game.

Costello, 41, resides in the Milwaukee suburb of Bayside with his wife Barbara, and four young daughters, Lesley 6; Pamela 4; Colleen 2; and Amy 1. This year Costello took a trip to the Far East, under U.S.O. sponsorship, with Wayne Embry, guard Lucius Allen and forward John Block. Visiting military hospitals in Okinawa, Taiwan, Guam, and the Phillipines, he met with servicemen and talked with them about his favorite subject: basketball. During September of this year, the globetrotting coach conducted clinics at U. S. Air Force bases in Germany.

What little time is left after his family and basketball receive their due, Larry spends on a few fishing trips or in following baseball, a sport he played well enough at Niagara to attract major league interest.

The key to Coach Costello's success? He credits it to the togetherness of his team. "A team needs a good bench, alot of cooperation, and real togetherness. That's what I look for every year." Larry also looks for "hungry ballplayers, ones who love to play. The hungry ballplayers are consistent players, and if you don't have consistency you're going to lose a lot of games."

Most basketball observers will tell you that as long as Larry Costello coaches the Bucks, they will remain consistent winners.

Height: 6-6 Weight: 195
Hometown: Richmond, Virginia
High School: Maggie Walker
College: Norfolk State, 1969

Fleet Bobby has consistently hit around the .500 mark in shooting, and has been second in scoring and rebounding to Kareem Abdul-Jabbar the past two years . . . a fourth round pick in 1969, many thought the slightly built forward to be too slim for pro ball, pointing out his "toothpick" build . . . Bobby had the last laugh as usual and is now dubbed "Pick" in memory of his critics . . . joined Abdul-Jabbar on '69-70 NBA All-Rookie team, might have been Rookie of the Year had not the super-center also made his debut that season . . . Season high last year of 31 points against Portland on November 16, career high of 39 against San Diego on October 27, 1970 . . . was the Bucks second leading scorer last year, second leading rebounder . . . had good playoff series, averaging 21.5 in 11 games . . . noted for his quick hands and ability to pull off smooth steals . . . "I try to keep the man I'm guarding think I'm looking somewhere else. If he relaxes a little, I reach in for the steal . . . named to the Board of Visitors (trustees) of Norfolk State College by Governor of Virginia in 1971 . . . Oscar Robertson: Dandridge's biggest assets are his hands. He has good anticipation, moves to get open, and when he gets the ball, he can shoot . . . Jerry West: Dandridge is the key to the Bucks' tight defense, partly because he is so willing to help out the other guys. He'll switch off, trap you down the sides and make you commit some kind of error . . . signed three year contract in August of 1971 . . . completed requirements for degree at Norfolk State this summer . . . Coach Costello: He's got the tools to become a super player. Bobby's our main offensive forward. He's an active player, gets out on the break well, and makes our fast break happen . . . missed two games last December due to strained neck . . . married wife Barbara during summer of 1971 . . . enjoys listening to music . . . resides in Mequon.

CURTIS PERRY

Forward

High School: Western
College: Southwest Missouri State, 1970
How Acquired: In December 9, 1971 trade with first round draft choice from Houston Rockets for Greg Smith and 3rd round draft choice

Curtis was one of the biggest surprises of the '71-72 NBA season, and is counted on to provide solid rebounding and the forward spot this season . . . Coach Larry Costello found his 6'7" 220 pound frame to be helpful in the front line; after arriving from Houston, Perry logged almost 30 minutes per game in 50 appearances. . . . as a Buck last year, he hauled down 471 rebounds, averaged 7 points per game and hit .385 from the floor . . . had personal playoff scoring high of 22 points against Golden State last March 30 . . . was Rockets third round choice in '70 college draft . . . plays hard-nosed game of run-rebound-hustle . . . "I don't worry too much about scoring. The thing I like most about him is that he gets rebounds in traffic, when two or three guys are all moving for the ball. That's tougher than grabbing the ball when you're the only guy around!" . . . four year varsity standout at S.W. Missouri State, holds ten school scoring and rebound records. . . his high school alma mater also produced Austin Carr . . . Curtis and wife Mary Alice reside in Brown Deer.
